Dear [redacted]

I have good news for you: thanks to another country not requesting the entire amount, we can allocate [redacted] to the Netherlands.

I will inform Gilead.

Best regards,

Dear [redacted],

Thank you for responding so fast.

[redacted]

In the mean time I received the actual data about Covid-19 hospitalizations in the Netherlands. Today we are at a level of ca. 110 new hospitalizations per day and this number is increasing. The same is the case for our supplies to the hospitals. The current supplies are at a level of treatments for 60 patients per day and this number is increasing as well.

[redacted]

Again, we sincerely hope that extra vials can be supplied to the Netherlands,

Thank you for your consideration and best regards,

Dear 5.1.2e

Thank you for your e-mail.

5.1.1c

We are also planning to make a forth shipment to countries, but I do not have the number of vials yet. This would hopefully bridge the time until the first order under the joint procurement comes in.

Please note that stock are likely to still be limited between Oct-Dec 2020, so we will apply an allocation key. For this, we would please need the latest available hospitalization rate for COVID-19.

Kind regards,

5.1.2e

Dear 5.1.2e,

Dear 5.1.2e

Please be informed about the following urgent situation.

In the Netherlands we are facing a very strong increase in demand for Veklury vials in the past weeks and we are expecting an out-of-stock soon.

Yesterday we have been in touch with the Dutch Gilead organization to investigate if they could offer any help, but unfortunately this is not the case, but they will inform Gilead's HQ about the threatening out-of-stock-situation we are facing.

It turns out that the numbers of hospital cases we have reported so far, are below reality. These low numbers have been used for the allocation of the ESI programme.

Our urgent request is if the Netherlands can receive additional Veklury vials via the ESI programme on short notice.

We will also inform the colleagues involved in the JPI for Veklury if the allocations ratio can be adjusted, but that will not offer a fast solution

We would very much appreciate if you could help us.
 Looking forward hearing from you,

Kind regards,

Dear 5.1.2e colleagues,

5.1.1c

We would like to distribute them among those countries with a higher number of COVID-19 cases (over the last 7 days). Your country is among these, according to ECDC data.

Therefore, if you would like to receive more vials next week, please inform us by replying to this e-mail. We will then also inform you about the number of vials.

The shipment could start as early as Friday 11 Sept 2020.

Kind regards,

5.1.2e Team
