Hi 5.1.2e

Just a quick update for you.

I have managed to get all the bench tests done for you yesterday and they have passed (this usually takes at least a week with our current workload), meaning that the only remaining tests are Practical Performance and Total Inward Leakage. This is estimated to be completed by the end of next week, plus a few days to collate the data and write the report.

Kind Regards

Hi [redacted]

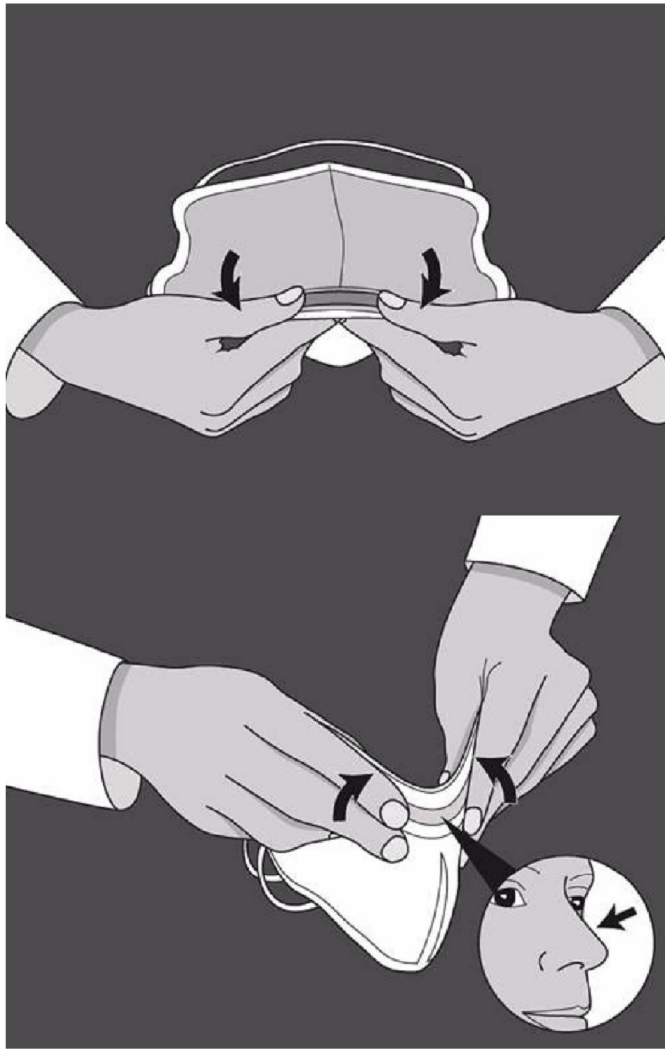

Thanks for your response. Hopefully we can receive the results soon. One remark regarding the instructions to put the mask on your face;

It is very important to flatten the nose bridge completely and pre-shape it to the nose, as otherwise leakage on top of the nose could occur.

For clarification, we have made an instruction video and adjusted the leaflet.

Dear mr. 5.1.2e

Thanks for your quick reply.

I am a bit astonished by the fact that the tests have not commenced yet. I attached an email which dates 25th of June as the day that our new samples for re-testing model TC-2-B1 have been send out to your facility, including the track and trace which states that 5.1.2e received those on the 29th of June.

After that, I was in the assumption that the re-test was already underway; see second email, which is discussing the fact whether our technical details for the re-tests were changed.

The third email shows that nothing was set on schedule yet, as I missed some kind of bureaucratic button for approval on the downside of the email. This while we were in communication on the retest of course (see mails before). Now I find myself, almost another month later to find out that BSI did not start the test. So from the moment of shipment of the second batch until today, almost 2 months in total have passed.

As you can imagine, I am very unhappy and dissatisfied with this course of events.

Could you see which person you can contact in your organization, is able to explain the situation and is able to compensate for this huge loss of time?

Best Regards,

Goedemorgen Niels,

Ten aanzien van de Declaration Of Conformity, is het me niet helemaal duidelijk:

- Moeten we nu verwijzen naar EU_2020_403 (aangepaste regels voor Covid_19) of naar de EU_2016_425 (reguliere wetgeving PPE)? < zoals in het example blad: de tweede neem ik dus aan.
- Ik krijg de indruk dat het certificaatnummer ook is gewijzigd? Op onze versie op het DoC staat CE728713, in de kopregel van BSI staat CE728712, welke moet het zijn? Het wordt (en blijft) 12

Ik zie je antwoord wel tegemoet, dan zal ik het document aanpassen.

From the attached Lists of Components before and after the samples' improvement, I understand the filter material remains the same- can you please confirm?

I have reviewed the rest of the technical files and found further corrective actions to be address:

Visual identification- still cannot find any photographs of the each model ("Picture of code" jpg file is not acceptable -please remove)	CAR1
DoC is still missing a reference to Module C2- attached template can help	CAR2

I will prepare draft certificates Mod B and Module C2 one we receive positive test results.

Dear Niels,

Thank you for your updates.

I understand and will prepare a quote for retest of your failed model TC-2- B1. Only penetration to paraffin oil test was performed and failed therefore new samples for retest will have to be tested from scratch. I will sent a quote in a separate email- kindly accept it by clicking "respond" at the bottom of the email.

Also, please make sure any changes to the product' s design are reflected in your updated technical file.

I will review it once we have a pass result on testing and know a final version of this model.

Regarding the second model, please let me know when you are ready to sent samples for testing and include the attached form in your shipment to help us trace them.

Hope this helps.

Many thanks and kind regards,

Goodafternoon 5.1.2e

Herewith both technical files, including updates based on your comments.

Unfortunately I could not retrieve random samples TC-2-A1 from different production runs that all will pass the tests. Therefore I would like to ask if we can divide the testing procedure, so we can continue with TC-2-B1 without further delays. In the meantime, we are finetuning and adjusting the machines for TC-2-A1.

Have a nice weekend!

Best Regards,

Niels

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

Thank you for submitting technical files for one of your models. I will review it shortly and will come back with my comments.

Do we know what has happened with the second model you have requested to be tested TC-2-A1?

I don't think any samples arrived. If this is the shipment you are referring to please let us know tracking number to trace the samples.

Many thanks and kind regards,
