Dear Dr. [REDACTED]

Policy Wisdom LLC, a global consulting firm dedicated to shaping public health policies and advancing solutions to public health issues around the world, is honored to invite you to participate in a call-to-action meeting on the role of serology to strengthen vaccination initiatives and policies for COVID-19. This virtual meeting seeks to highlight the possible use of serology testing within COVID-19 immunization programs across European countries. It also strives to define and recommend a path forward that can inform policy decision making to positively impact national immunization initiatives and the public in general.

We are currently developing a working document that describes the potential role of serology testing in the context of immunization policies, discusses the challenges and limitations of such strategy, and offers policy recommendations. Urged by the introduction of COVID-19 vaccines, countries across the globe and in the European region are currently developing COVID-19 immunization policies. Our aim is to discuss and agree on a call-to-action that can encourage an immediate response and support timely and critical decision making.

We invite you to join this meeting, along with a select group of experts such as yourself, to support us in validating and enriching the call-to-action working document. The meeting will be facilitated by Policy Wisdom and the conclusions from this discussion will be the basis for completing the final call-to-action report.

Our anticipated timeline is:

Week of 18 th January and 25 th January	Contact experts, share key topics to be addressed
27 th or 28 th January	Hold virtual call-to-action meeting (one online sessions of 3 hours 30 minutes)

We kindly ask you to confirm by 22nd January your interest and availability to participate in this event, or to designate an alternate person who can represent your organization.
