Departamento de Doenças Infecciosas

To whom it may concern,

The Infectious Diseases Department of National Institute of Health Doutor Ricardo Jorge, in Portugal, is focused on the diagnosis and research of biological agents, including bacteria and viruses of risk group 2, 3 and 4, and is designated as national reference laboratory.

In our BSL-2 and BSL-3 facilities in Lisboa, Porto e Águas de Moura, we have established a biorisk management structure concerning the national regulations and laws and the CWA 15793:2011 guidelines, to ensure that biosafety and biosecurity practices are implemented.
