Early review IMI 17 November 2020

Suggestions were made on possibilities to collaborate more with other work packages, such as work package 3. It was perceived a good idea, however, at this moment it would be too early, but later on in the project it would be relevant to work more closely together.

As a work package we have not heard back whether IMI accepts the delay of some of our deliverables such as the reviews, due to the Covid situation. However, 5.1.2e is generally very understanding in regards to the Covid pandemic.

Update focus group study impact COVID-19

5.1.2e will conduct new focus groups among older adults and the elderly in The Netherlands. The aim is to identify whether the opinion of participants concerning vaccines has changed due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Currently, preparations are being made to conduct the focus groups and the recruitment has started as well. The first group will probably be held later this month. Moreover, the focus groups will be held online.

After 5.1.2e presentation it was suggested that it would also be interesting to try and identify what external influences play a role also in accepting the flu vaccine this specific year. As not only in
